

My name is Reese and I am 8 years old. I am in second grade. Before starting vision therapy I had a hard time writing words on the line and did not get very good scores on my tests and practice pages. I would get very tired by the end of the day and had a hard time getting homework done at night.

After finishing my first session of VT it is easier to write my words on the line. I also get better scores on my papers and tests. It is easier for me to copy things off of the board like my friends. Math is even easier!

It was fun going to VT. I liked playing Stupid Zombies with Kevin, shooting at ghosts with Lance, and playing Daily Snoop with Ali. It was always fun and made my day go better.

Sometimes the VT homework was hard for me. I would tell my mom and dad I didn't want to do it. It made me tired but after a few weeks it got easier. I really liked playing Ninja Painter and seeing how high I could get my scores on Clicker. I kept working really hard and even got a score of 21 on Base-In. My whole family jumped around the kitchen and howled like wolves because I was getting better at it. That was really funny. I was proud of myself and kept trying to get higher scores.

My mom says I will probably still need to do more VT. It will be easier next time because I know I can do it.
